THE PRESIDENT'S MEDALLION, designed by Miss Murray of the Art Department, and created by Jostens, will be presented to President DuFresne at his inauguration on February 2. The Collegiate Club is handling the campus-wide campaign to pay for it.

Weeks to speak

Inauguration will be February 2

A busy schedule for Friday, February 2, will see the academic procession from Somsen 200 to Somsen Auditorium leading to the Inaugural Ceremony beginning at 2:00 p.m. including the presentation of the Presidential Medallion.

Following the ceremony in Somsen Auditorium, will be the dedication of Maxwell Library at 3:30 on the library's second floor. The presidential reception will follow the dedication also in Maxwell Library.

The Inaugural Dinner and Ball Committee announce that each student organization at Winona State College has been given the privilege of sending one representative plus an escort to represent its organization at the President's Inaugural Dinner and Ball to be held Friday, February 2, at 8:00 p.m. in Kryzsko Commons main dining room.

It is imperative that each organization purchase the tickets for your representative and escort or date by Tuesday, January 16, according to the committee. Student organizations have been given priority of securing their tickets before the general public.

Following student organizations in priority, all faculty, office staff, and maintenance staff may purchase tickets also by the Tuesday, January 16 deadline.

All remaining tickets will go on sale to the general public, including the student body from January 15 to January 19. Tickets must be secured in the Somsen Hall Ticket Booth at a cost of $5 per person from 8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. from January 10 to January 19.

Alumni are asked to complete the form found at the bottom of this page, indicate whether for the Inaugural Ceremony and/or the Dinner and Ball, and if including the Dinner, include check payable to Winona State College for $5 per person.

Edward Weeks, editor of the Atlantic Monthly, America's foremost literary magazine, will be a lecturer at Winona State College February 1 in conjunction with the inauguration of Dr. Robert A. DuFresne as the tenth president of the college.

Editor Weeks will discuss a "Creed for Americans" in a public lecture in Somsen Auditorium at 8 p.m. on the eve of the inaugural ceremony. A reception will follow in the Student Union.

Mr. Weeks has been identified with The Atlantic Monthly more than forty years — longer than any other man in its history — and in his service first as reader, then as editor of the Atlantic Monthly Press books, and, since 1938, as editor-in-chief, he has built up circulation of the magazine from 100,000 to more than 270,000 readers who purchase it today.

Mr. Weeks is the author of two volumes of editorials of an autobiographical nature, the first

Fund drive to start this weekend to finance president's medallion

The fund drive among students to raise the money needed to finance the president's medallion will begin this weekend, according to James Evenson.

Since the medallion is a gift to Winona State College, it is not the property of any one president, and will establish a tradition of being handed down from president to president. In this way, the medallion will become a lasting memento to Winona State College from the entire student body of 1968.

The gems, symbolic of the State of Minnesota and of the pioneer citizens of Winona, are given by citizens of Winona and by Winona State College faculty members.

The symbolism of the medallion lies within the framework filigree of the letters of "Winona State College President", which encircles and bind together the inner symbol.

The center of the medallion is focused on the equilateral triangle, symbolic of science, literature, and the arts. Within the triangle the circle, an endless movement of education, holds symbols of the world and man.

At the apex of the triangle, the aquamarine is symbolic of the Mississippi River and the 10,000 lakes. At the lower left of the triangle, the topaz represents the agriculture of this state. At the lower right of the triangle is the garnet, to represent the early pioneer citizens of Winona who, in 1858, approached the legislature to establish by law this institution and in addition gave land from the city to provide a place for the college.

In the segments outside the triangle are the diamond set stars, which shine for the State of Minnesota, the trees for the great forests, and the base the flowing lines of the streams of Minnesota.

The fire of the opal in the link to the chain is the zeal and belief in education, and the purple alexandrite symbolizes the school color.

The medallion, after being presented to Dr. DuFresne at the Inaugural Ceremony, will be worn by the president during academic ceremonies such as graduation, and will be on display several times during the school year.

Miss Floretta Murray, head of the WSC Art Department, was designer of the medallion, and Josten's of Owatonna was in charge of striking.

Representatives of the Collegiate Club will contact each student as the person-to-person campaign is planned.

State colleges form union; Ross, Grim attend meetings

A union of the six state colleges is nearing completion as the constitution of the Minnesota State College Student Association is finalized.

This past weekend, John Ross and Robert Grim, president and vice-president of the Student Senate, attended the group's fourth formative meeting at St. Cloud State College. Also present were representatives from Bemidji State College. According to Ross, however, all colleges, including Southwest, are in agreement with the basic principles.

The purpose of the association is to encourage an exchange of ideas among students and to provide a channel of communication to the governor's office, the state legislature, and the state college board. The board has previously expressed an interest in the endeavor, as there is presently no such organized student body.

Tentatively, three representatives from each institution — a total of 18 — will meet once a quarter at a central location. From this number will be chosen a chairman and four vice-presidents. These four executives will be concerned with the areas of state college board affairs, executive branch affairs, legislative matters, and research. The representatives from each college are to include the student body president and possibly two other members of the Student Senate executive board. When completed, the constitution will require the approval of the student government at each college.

The next meeting, also at St. Cloud, is scheduled for February 17. The initiation of the student association was headed by the then student body president at SCSC in December 1966.

Degrees will be awarded formally next June.

The degrees earned include 14 master of science, 36 bachelor of science, 6 bachelor of arts and 3 associate in arts.

RA applications available in S106

Resident assistant and graduate work-study program applications for 1968-69 are now available in the housing office, Somsen 106.

There are 48 openings for resident hall assistants. For each there will be a $165 reduction on his room and board fees. All applicants must maintain a 2.0 Grade Point Average and be a junior or senior or 21 years of age next year.

All present assistants wishing to continue must reapply. Applications may also be obtained from the offices of the residence hall directors in Hi Rise and Richards Halls and must be completed by March 1. Placements will be announced April 1.

Graduate Assistants must be working toward a Master of Science degree in education. There are openings for graduates in off campus housing, in financial aids, and in the residence halls. The jobs, 12 hours a week, pay $1800 a year. There is a possibility of a few full-time jobs.

Lack of sponsorship limits Winter weekend activities

Winter Weekend, scheduled on the college activity calendar for January 19 and 20, has been changed in concept due to a lack of sponsorship by a college organization.

Originally intended to be an entire weekend of events, the function is now billed as semi-big-name entertainment. The Preferred Stock, a talented musical combo from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, are to play in Kryzsko Commons from 9 to 12 p.m. on January 20. The trio was well received when they played at the 1967 WSC Christmas Dance.

Members of the former Social Committee are sponsoring the event since the Campus Coordinating Committee failed to form this quarter. As proposed, the CCC would have conflicted with the newly instituted committee system organization by the faculty senate.

The Social Committee is scheduled to reform before the end of the month.

Editorial:

Help improve Winonan

As the new quarter begins, we feel the need to keep improving the WINONAN. We need your help.

Our sports coverage is quite obviously lacking, not for a lack of interest on our part, but for lack of someone interested in writing sports. Surely one of our many critics in Memorial Hall knows of a student who has the interest and ability to write sports. Send him up.

This also brings up another question. Since so many students read the Winona Daily News, and since their coverage of WSC sports is quite good, why repeat what they print? We have received some pressure for something other than straight-news coverage of WSC sports, something on the order of an analytical-behind-the-scenes type of column. Your opinions on this are solicited.

There has also been some talk of running a short column on area ski conditions every week. Are you, the student body, interested, or is it just a few vociferous individuals?

Alumnus discusses drugs, points out harm of marijuana

To the Editor:

Your editorial on Nov. 3, '67 interests me.

If you lived in the "greater New York metropolitan area," as it is referred to in the East, you might possibly have a different viewpoint regarding laws governing use of marijuana.

Dr. Ramirez, a recognized authority, has gone on record to state, "Some genetic damage has been found among users of marijuana."

Another authority (whose name seems to be lost in the confusion of Christmas mail, bills, etc., etc.) who was on Hugh Downs' Today Show recently and is the head of the Narcotics Division in Harlem—N.Y.C., gave many answers and much good, documented information regarding marijuana. His contention is that from long experience he has found that the use of marijuana most definitely develops into the use of heroin. This is not done because it is necessarily addictive, though disagreement even exists in this area. Some feel it can be. This progression from marijuana use to heroin is just too frequent — almost total, he found, to be pushed aside lightly. I hadn't realized this was so. Perhaps you have known this.

Don't you think as an editor of a college magazine your responsibility should preclude statements that rather lightly and easily pass over something so serious? Where even a question of doubt remains I would think your position of authority, in a sense, would lead you to most cautious statements in an area so fraught with danger as this.

Out here around 42nd St. NYC, Greenwich Village, Harlem, etc., we see hundreds of addicts and the pitiful results. When seen on such a big scale, it kind of shocks one — especially from the sheltered Mid-west. I've been out here seven years.

We have four sons and in many ways it's easier to raise children out here. The "wrong" shows up so blatantly and so wrong. No one in his right mind would choose it or any path even bending in its direction.

As we go to press -

Students who wish to work on Student-Faculty Committees can pick up applications in the Student Senate Office, Somsen 106.

All applications must be returned to the Senate Office by 4:00 P.M. January 18.

Announcement of the committee members will be made during the week of January 22.

There are 75 openings and only 15 applications have been filed at the time of publication.

The following are the 12 committees: Student Union Board, Student Affairs Committee, Student Activity Fund Committee, Student Health Committee, Student Publication Committee, Lectures and Concerts Committee, Student Social Committee, Committee on New Student Organizations and Student Handbook, Housing Committee, Student Judicial Committee, Campus Beautification Committee and Library Committee.

Plans for the Center for the Performing Arts at Winona State College continue on schedule after the State College Board investigated the possibility of a thrust stage.

It was estimated that a thrust stage will cost $200,000 more than the available $1,750,000. Additional funds are not readily available so plans for the proscenium stage will continue. In the event that funds are procured, modifications can be made in the auditorium proper.

Nevertheless, the theater will have a thrust stage in the form of a rehearsal stage, and it will have seating for more than 100 people.

The Psychology department has announced that another section of Mental Health 312G will be offered on Wednesday evenings, with Mr. Austad teaching. The course will be offered for 35 students and will run from Jan. 10 until March 13. There are no prerequisites for this 3-credit course.

In the tradition of Phelps School as one of the first schools to try new techniques in experimental teaching, two new programs are being started.

The first of these programs is the video taping of student teach-

Psychological Services Center offers dual counseling facilities

by Richard Gora

Few college students realize that the Psychological Services Center on campus is actually two separate facilities, one for twenty-four primary and secondary school districts in the surrounding area, both public and parochial. Over 25,000 students are eligible for help. The second half of the center's facilities are for counseling college students.

The center is hampered by a shortage of space. Many of the rooms which have been planned as group testing rooms, student libraries, and treatment and therapy rooms have been converted to other uses such as offices and storage facilities due to lack of space.

A vocational information library will be formed in a corner of the large group testing room. The library will open to students as soon as work is completed. Currently students have access to files of career information but their scope is rather limited. The center also has a contract with the Veterans' Administration to test former members of the armed services for vocational interests.

Dr. George Christensen, director of the Psychological Services Center, states that a very good start has been made on a complete counseling service for college students. He emphasizes that any college student who wants to receive counseling may do so at any time by stopping at the center in the Gildemeister annex or phoning for an appointment. Appointments may be made with the receptionists or the particular counselor the student would like to see. Dr. Christensen also stated that while the center's staff is capable of handling serious cases, mild problems are treated most frequently.

In order to correct what Dr. Christensen considers a serious shortcoming of counseling, the counselors losing touch with the student body and the current situation, counselors also teach part of the time.

The center also takes part in the training of graduate students in the field of high school counseling. The interview rooms connected to observation rooms by one way mirrors are used in the teaching of individual testing, with students giving tests while being observed by instructors who can aid the student should he fall into difficulty.

The center is lacking several services which are needed; notably speech pathology and reading improvement, both remedial and speed reading, for college students. Current facilities are financed by federal funds which stipulate that they may be used only for elementary and secondary students.

The center would also take part in two proposed programs of teaching at the college; a major in psychology and a Masters degree in applied psychology. Both programs lack the approval of the state college board.

Dr. DuFresne has stated that the Psychological Services Center will definitely be expanded but there are no immediate plans.

The keen edge

by Fredric Baranski

What's Wrong with American Colleges and Universities has recognized nine students for their scholarship and service to Winona State Cowlick.

Majoring in Business Administration is Jim Beam, founder of the LSD political party — LSD (Let Students Drink) eventually founded itself. Jim says he is also running his fraternity behind the scenes. He hopes the same thing doesn't happen to it.

Plain Gherkin, unknown and political has-been, was just lucky to be elected. He stated, "Sure I know the whole election smelled, but I made it and I'm not going to complain. So what if they lost half the ballots?"

Loren Gollygirls, member of the Totido Society and a snow-job major, has a theory that explains everything. "But everyone knows the wide gulf between theory and practice," he stated.

Alfonso Bagajello ("My friends call me 'Animal'") dislikes organization men and people in general. "My voice is my fortune," he says. "I have a fantastic stage presence." Alfonso and Loren Gollygirls like to camp together.

Ray What's-his-name, something-or-other-at-large, is not particularly active in any organization, but he has strong opinions. Ray commented, "Instead of writing letters to the Editor about Vietnam, students should be concerned with serious matters."

Phil Attio is active in the TICKs, ABC, and XYZ. He was also a Homecoming Queen candidate, since the rules did not state that contestants must be female. Many people felt he was the best looking candidate in years.

Connie Lingus is secretary of the Cowlick Club. Speaking of the Cowlick Club, she says: "It is true we are very exclusive, but only because we are prejudiced. If you don't belong to the right fraternity or sorority, forget it. No hippies please. It also helps if your boyfriend or girlfriend is already a member. We're a cozy little group, even if we never do anything." Connie is presently "pinned" to Phil Attio.

Mickey Sacklino was the prime mover in the establishment of the WSC chapter of SDS (Students in a Dreadful State) but he feels its failure was not his fault. "Mouse" commented, "So what if I didn't know a damn about parliamentary procedure — I just wanted to be a regular member, crissake!" He has since quit.

Charles Lamb, graduate student and TICK honcho, feels his big mouth was primarily responsible for this honor. "I like to tell people everything — especially what to do." When asked if he had any hobbies, Chuck grinned and replied, "Women."

Kane explains programs offered at financial aids meeting today

A meeting was held today for all students applying for financial aid during the 1968-1969 school year. At the meeting Mr. John Kane, Financial aids director, explained various financial aids programs offered at Winona State.

One of the newer programs is the State Scholarship program available to Minnesota residents under 25 years of age. Stipends will range from $200-$800 a year, depending on tuition, fees, and both costs and need. Scholarships will be awarded annually to first year college students who ranked highest according to academic standards set by the Liaison and Facilities Commission for Higher Education in Minnesota.

The National Defense Student Loan is available for students who maintain a 2.0 (C average). An undergraduate may borrow $1,000 each academic year; a graduate student may borrow $2,500. Payments begin 9 months following graduation and may be extended for ten years. Ten percent of the payment may be forgiven for each year a person teaches, up to five years. A similar program is the Nursing Student Loan for nursing majors. Requirements and payments are similar to the National Defense Student Loan.

United Student Aid Funds are available from USAF, a private corporation which provides low-cost loans to students. Money is provided for local banks and all interest on the loan is paid by the United States government.

Work on campus is provided to students through the Work-Study program. Preference is given to applicants from low-income families. Students may work 15 hours per week while attending school and 40 hours per week while not attending school. Current wage is $1.25 per hour, a 50c per hour increase over two years ago. Other employment may be found in Winona by checking the bulletin board in the basement of Kryzsko Commons.

Students applying for aid who are under 25, married or single, must have their parents or guardian complete the Parents' Confidential Statement.

1968: ITS CAUSE AND CURE

Are you still writing "1967" on your papers and letters? I'll bet you are, you scamp! But I am not one to be harsh with those who forgot we are in a new year, for I myself have long been guilty of the same lapse. In fact, in my senior year at college, I wrote 1873 on my papers until nearly November of 1874! (It turned out, incidentally, not to be such a serious error because, as we all know, 1874 was later repealed by President Chester A. Arthur in a fit of pique over the Black Tom Explosion. And, as we all know, Mr. Arthur later came to regret his hasty action. Who does not recall that famous meeting between Mr. Arthur and Louis Napoleon when Mr. Arthur said, "Lou, I wish I hadn't of repealed 1874!" Whereupon the French emperor made his immortal rejoinder, "Tipi que nous et tyler tu". Well sir, they had many a good laugh about that, as you can imagine.)

But I digress. How can we remember to write 1968 on our papers and letters? Well sir, the best way is to find something memorable about 1968, something unique to fix it firmly in your mind. Happily, this is very simple because, as we all know, 1968 is the first year in history that is divisible by 2, by 5, and by 7. Take a pencil and try it: 1968 divided by 2 is 984; 1968 divided by 5 is 393.6; 1968 divided by 7 is 281.14. This mathematical curiosity will not occur again until the year 2079, but we will all be so busy then celebrating the Chester A. Arthur bi-centenary that we will scarcely have time to be writing papers and letters and like that.

Another clever little trick to fix the year 1968 in your mind is to remember that 1968 spelled backwards is 8691. "Year" spelled backwards is "raey"; "Personna" spelled backwards is "Annosrep." I mention Personna because I am paid to write this column by the makers of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades, and they are inclined to withhold my check if I omit to mention their product.

Not, mind you, that it is any chore for me to sing the praises of Personna, for it is a seemingly blade that shaves you cleanly, a gleaming blade that leaves you beaming, a trouble-free blade that leaves you stubble-free, a matchless blade that leaves you scratchless. If you are tired of facial slump, if you are fed up with jowl blight, try Personna today... available both in double-edge style and Injector style. And if I seem a bit excessive in my admiration for Personna, I ask you to remember that to me Personna is more than a razor blade; it is also an employer.

But I digress. We were speaking of the memorable aspects of 1968 and high among them, of course, is the fact that in 1968 the entire House of Representatives stands for election. There will, no doubt, be many lively and interesting contests, but none, I'll wager, quite so lively and interesting as the one in my own district where the leading candidate is none other than Chester A. Arthur!

Mr. Arthur, incidentally, is not the first ex-president to come out of retirement and run for the House of Representatives. John Quincy Adams was the first. Mr. Adams also holds another distinction: he was the first son of a president ever to serve as president. It is true that Martin Van Buren's son, Walter "Blinky" Van Buren, was at one time offered the nomination for the presidency, but he, alas, had already accepted a bid to become Mad Ludwig of Bavaria. James K. Polk's son, on the other hand, became Salmon P. Chase. Millard Fillmore's son went into aluminum siding. This later became known as the Missouri Compromise.

WIEP offers variety of activities

The Women's Intramural-Extra-mural Program again has a variety of activities to offer all college co-eds during Winter Quarter.

Five Intramural activities will be available on Wednesday nights, with the exception of orchesis which meets every Monday night at 7:00.

Cherie Miller, Basketball Chairman, has organized eight teams into 7:00 and 8:00 leagues. Play began Jan. 10 in the form of a Round Robin Tournament.

Gymnastics, under the direction of Pegi Mullen, is being held at the same time in the apparatus room beginning this week. Girls are invited to try their favorite piece of equipment — uneven parallel bars, balance beam and trampoline, or become familiar with gymnastics for the first time.

Swimming is again scheduled for this quarter. Carole Feldmann, Chairman, reminds girls to watch the WIEP bulletin board in Memorial Hall for the particular tentative plans have been made to have it open to all girls every other week.

Nancy Novak, Orchesis Chairman encourages girls to create their own individual or group modern dance routines on Monday nights at 7:00 in Room 202, Memorial Hall.

Intra-mural bowling will begin the last week in January and continue through the quarter. Joan Benson suggests that the teams form early. There will be both Wednesday and Thursday evening leagues.

Extramurally, WIEP has the basketball, bowling, and archery teams practicing for games with other colleges during the quarter.

Cagers Club is organized

A Cagers Club has been organized at Winona State College.

Ron Ekker, head Warrior basketball coach, is showing game films at the Monday noon meetings in the student union. In reviewing the past week's games and taking a look ahead to the next, Ekker has help from his assistants, Bob Lietzau and Dale Burge.

The Coaches and the Warriors have recently concluded a series of three clinics for high school coaches and teams. The clinics at Glenwood City and Cochrane-Fountain City, Wis., and Blooming Prairie, Minn., attracted a total of about 600 players and coaches.

WSC bowling team does "very well" on road trip

Winona State bowling team finished with a 500 average in their second NIBC meet at Milbank, South Dakota on January 4.

Captain Duane Nelson, sophomore from Ellendale, led the way with a 198 average.

The WSC bowling team won two out of three games from the University of Minnesota Morris, one out of three games from Gustavus Adolphus, and split with Mankato tying one game at 911.

Coach Charles Zane commented that "the team did very well considering the long road trip."

As of the Milbank meet Winona is third among the seven college teams competing. Zane concluded, "After the next meet in Marshall on February 3 there is a possibility of the WSC bowling team to move into first or second."
